CUESTIONES
BEFORE ACQUIRING A DOG There are many reasons why you might decide to own a dog. Whatever reasons you have for acquiring a dog, however, do so only after careful consideration and after weighing all the pros and cons: only then will you and the dog be happy together. The dog is an animal which is closely tied to the company of a pack and you will take the place of the pack. The dog must regard you as its pack leader, a being who knows what is right, who makes the decisions, gives punishment and rewards. You will be taking on the responsibility for your new companion. You must bring up your dog and train it, give it time and attention, let it out several times a day, walk it and feed it. Prepare yourself for the fact that you will have to cover various expenses (fees for the veterinarian....) and that you may possibly have to see the animosity of people in your neighbourhood who do not like dogs. You must look after the dog when is ill, and take into account that it will grow old and will no longer be able to fulfil all your wishes but will continue to love you and depend on you as before. People often ask whether they should choose a purebred dog or a mongrel. Every dog has a personality of its own just like people. A mongrel may be just a friendly, faithful, timid or disobedient as a purebred dog. (From " DOGS" L. Dobroruka, Z. Berger)
